Kennedy Tightens Grip on Delegates

BY JACK BELL
Los Angeles — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) tightened the cordon around his rivals today as pre-convention battling over the Democratic presidential nomination neared a climax.

No matter where his opponents turned for support from uncommitted delegations, Kennedy's astute operators already had made their effective calls.

As the acknowledged front runner, the Massachusetts senator—due here today—could point to banked-up support in every area still regarded as political open range in advance of the convention's formal opening Monday.

203 Votes Involved
If the platoon leaders of delegations from California, Minnesota, Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania consented to turn their ranks loose, there seemed little doubt that Kennedy would gather a substantial majority of them into his camp.

These five states could disclose this today amid re-provide 203 of the needed 761 ports that Eisenhower may go votes for the nomination. For personally before a joint session of the senate and house mics concede him around 600 to sound the appeal.

Considers Entering Catholic Priesthood

Los Angeles — James Roosevelt's 14-year-old son, Eisenhower will call for caution against any election year thinking of becoming a priest.

James Roosevelt, Jr., said Friday, "my pastor and I have had several talks about this and think it best that I finish high school and then enter a seminary — if I still feel the way I do now."

Mexican Senate Chief Says Nation Must Send Cuba Oil

Calls Issue 'Human,' Not Political

BY JACK RUTLEDGE

Mexico City—A close friend of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos says Mexico must provide Cuba with oil.

Senate Leader Manuel Moreno Sanchez told newsmen last night Cuba is facing "a social and human crisis" and that Mexico could not remain indifferent.

"It is not a matter of trade," the senator said. "Mexico does not have an oil surplus, but Cuba is facing a need for a fundamental element vital to its survival."

"It is a time of crisis. It is not political. It is entirely a social and human catastrophe."

His statement came despite generally unfavorable reaction to an earlier assertion by Deputy Emilio Sanchez Piedras that Mexico must side with Cuba in its clash with the United States.

Sanchez Piedras, government spokesman in congress, was criticized by conservatives and other opposition parties, many industrialists.

President Silverio Lopez Mateos has remained silent in the controversy which is blowing up in Mexico over Cuban-U.S. relations.

U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill made a hurried call on Foreign Minister Manuel Tello late yesterday. Details of the meeting were not revealed by either side but Hill left with a worried look on his face.

Indications of a turn in Mexican policy came June 24 at a welcome home party given for Moreno Sanchez and his commission. At the same time, Gen. Alfonso Corona del Rosal, president of the ruling party of revolutionary institutions (PRF) said Mexico should follow a leftist policy.

There was some thought that perhaps Piedras may have been somewhat out of

Khrushchev Hints At Using Rockets if U. S. Attacks Cuba

Pledges All-Out Support To Fidel Castro's Regime

Moscow — Nikita Khrushchev warned today that "Soviet artillery"—meaning rockets—can hit America if the United States moves against Cuba.

He pledged all-out support to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary government in a bristling speech and warned the United States to keep its hands off that Caribbean republic.

Amid cheers, he told a meeting of school teachers in the Kremlin that the Soviet rocket tests in the Pacific showed Russia can hit targets accurately at 8,000 miles and thus can strike the heartland of the United States.

"Now the United States is not so unreachable at it once was," he said. "Speaking figuratively, in case of necessity, Soviet artillery can support with their rocket fire the Cuban people if aggressive forces in the Pentagon dare to start intervention against Cuba."

Ready to Help Cuba
Khrushchev charged that the United States is attempting to strangle Cuba with an economic blockade and as further evidence of this, added: "We will help our Cuban brothers fight an economic blockade, and the blockade will be a failure."

The Soviet premier charged "the people of the Latin American countries are living in poverty because American monopolists are living in richness."

He attacked New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for allegedly suggesting economic reprisals against Cuba. Khrushchev said this was a flagrant example of "monopolist mentality."

The new threat by Khrushchev was certain to be added to the list of topics for the Herter-Dillon discussion which in some respects was expected to prepare Herter for a policy meeting Monday with President Eisenhower.

Ghostly Musicians Elude English Posse

Boreham Wood, England — A ghostly bugler who has been sounding a 2 a.m. reveille at a housing development here for weeks has been joined by an equally ghostly drummer.

"It's no joke," said Robert Prior, a posse member. "Children and parents are losing valuable rest. The bugler was bad enough. A drummer as well is just too much."

Police Recover Loot

Jobless Bus Driver Confesses $351,000 West Virginia Theft

BY DICK LEONARD
Charleston, W. Va. — A sledge hammer and pick used to enlarge a small ventrator opening in the ceiling of the vault, provided officers with their only lead in the case. The pick was traced to the Marmet area, 10 miles east of Charleston, where Mathews' mother and wife live.

Then police received a tip that Mathews had been spending money but wasn't making any.

"At the time, we didn't think much of the tip on Mathews," said State Police Cpl. O. S. Neely. "We had checked out hundreds of what we had considered better leads."

They questioned Mathews' mother. She told them her son was out of work but recently had given her $75. After two days of watching, they finally arrested Mathews.

State Police Supt. Hazen Fair described Mathews as "a fellow who undertook the job as an amateur and came out looking like a professional."

The slim, wiry Mathews prepared well for his big haul, however.

Shortly after admitting the motor vehicles department theft, he admitted 10 other jobs. Neely said.

Mathews said he pulled the motor vehicles department theft alone.

"I did it all by myself. Nobody was there. Anybody could have done it," he said.

Surprised By Total
The vault was crammed with receipts from auto license sales for the new license year which began July 1.

"I expected to get between $25,000 and $35,000," Mathews told newsmen. "I never realized there would be so much money."

"I went through the whole building (eight stories) before I started work on the vault. It took me longer to do that than to break into the vault."

He made four trips to carry six money sacks to his car, left outside the building on an adjoining parking lot.

Dr. Alton Named Methodist Bishop

Appleton Pastor Elected to Serve One of Three Midwest Episcopates

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Taylor Alton, of Appleton's First Methodist church, Friday became the first person elected bishop of the Methodist North Central jurisdiction while three bishops to be elected serving in Wisconsin.

Dr. Alton won the election when he received 275 votes on the eighth ballot at the jurisdictional conference at Grand Rapids, Mich.

His nearest competitors were the Rev. Edwin R. Garson, Indiana area administrative assistant, with 229 votes, and the Rev. Dr. T. Otto Nall, Chicago, editor of the Christian Advocate.

Dr. Alton was the first of three bishops to be elected serving in Wisconsin. They will serve in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the newly-created southern Illinois episcopate.

Which area Dr. Alton will serve will be determined later. Methodist bishops seldom are assigned to the states from which they were elected.

Dr. Alton's father, the Rev. John T. Alton, now retired, was serving a Deerfield, Ohio, parish on Aug. 10, 1908, when the new bishop was born in the parsonage there.

Gets Honorary Degree
After attending schools in Ohio, Dr. Alton spent two years at Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and another two at Ohio Wesleyan university, Del., where he was graduated in the top quarter of

U. S. Locks Night Club, Ellington Can't Play

San Francisco — When Duke Ellington fans arrived at Fack's II Friday night, they found the doors of one of San Francisco's best known nightclubs padlocked.

Notices of "United States government seizure" filled the windows.

Internal revenue agents had seized the Bush street club less than two hours before Ellington was to play.

The situation in Goma was obscure, but amateur radio operators there messaged for aidrops of food supplies for refugees.

Negotiate With Mutineers
A Belgian officer and Kivu provincial officials were negotiating with the mutinous soldiers.

In Brussels, Belgian Premier Gaston Eyskens declared the Congo situation was worse than Friday and ordered a second company of Belgian troops flown to the former colony. A government spokesman said disorders had broken out in the Western Congo as well as the Eastern Congo.

(The Belgian radio said Katanga province, scene of mutiny and disorders, planned to set up a state independent of the Republic of Congo. With a wealth of copper, the province is one of the richest in the Congo. Its leaders are said to fear the central government would take over most of the province's wealth.)

While Leopoldville was quiet, fears of new violence against whites brought government leaders out into the street to see that order was maintained.

5 Teenagers Killed When Struck by Automobile

Carbondale, Pa. — Eight Judy Stone, 16, Olyphant; Patrick Caviston, 3rd, 16, Ambrose O'Rourke, Jr., 17, and Thomas Clause, 17, all friends and neighbors in Carbondale, the Caviston and O'Rourke boys were cousins. A short time later Carole Ligi, 16, of Peckville, died in Carbondale General hospital.

O'Rourke's brother, Dan, 12, was among those in the drive-in. He heard a commotion, came out to see what had happened and then rushed to his parents who were staying at the lake.

The elder O'Rourke came to the scene. He said the victim "were strung along the ditch like cattle. I didn't even recognize my son." He learned an hour later that one of the bodies was that of his son.

Williams was charged with involuntary manslaughter. At the dimly lit scene, spectators could see the marquee of the theater. One of the feature attractions was "Edge of Eternity."

Two Quiz Show Aides Charged With Sharing Winnings of Guests

New York — Two so-called "warmup" men on the one-time Jan Murray "Treasure Chest" television show were arrested Friday on charges of splitting winnings with friends they put on the program.

One of them was Bernard P. Martin, 35, associate producer of the show as well as a warmup man. The other was named as Artie Roberts, 40.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who announced the arrests, said another man named in a criminal information was out of town and would be taken into custody as soon as he could be found.

Warmup men are employed to appear before studio audiences in advance of the actual broadcasts.

Sunday Is Coming — So Is More Rain

Area Business Places Join in New Promotion

'Heart of Valley' Banner Adopted to Stimulate Trade

Kaukauna — Businessmen from Kaukauna, Little Chute and Kimberly have joined forces in a new retail trade promotion to be called "Heart of the Valley."

This will be a concerted effort to attract business to these communities through special events held simultaneously. Paul Hietpas and Joseph Boots are heading the 12-man steering committee and plans call for a name to be selected for the group and officers elected within a few weeks.

The committee, consisting of four businessmen from each community, develops ideas and promotions and then have the responsibility of selling the idea to merchants in their own communities through the Businessmen's Association or Chamber of Commerce.

An emblem showing the three communities enclosed in a heart will be used for promotions undertaken by the retailers. First joint effort of the communities will be a dollar day sale early in August. It is hoped a joint promotion in all communities will attract more customers than each town holding separate sales as has been done in the past.

Advantages Sited

One of the major advantages to be stressed about shopping in the "heart of the valley" will be the free and adequate parking facilities. Others will be the variety of stores, good roads and convenience.

The business places will use the insignia in all ads and place it in windows when co-operating in a joint sale or special event. The dollar day promotion was selected first

Checking the Locks on the stockade to house men and women not complying with Golden Jubilee regulations or not having permit buttons is Robert Ellerbush while Eugene Hietpas, street commissioner, looks on. The stockade is located outside the village hall and a committee has already started compiling a list of violators who will be confined.

Stockade Built For Celebration

Beardless Men and Painted Women to Be Arrested Here

Kimberly — Work on the jubilee stockade has been completed and the structure has been located in front of the village hall on Kimberly avenue.

The stockade will be used to confine men without beards and girls without paint permits until sentenced by a "kourt committee." The stockade has two cells, 7 by 8-foot, and a heavy plywood hinged door.

It is made of green spruce put in northern Wisconsin and donated by Kimberly-Clark corporation. Men helping to build the structure besides the village crew were Bernard Vanden Boogaard, Ted Gloudemans, Paul Smits, Donald Weyenberg, Donald Valentine and Ray Price. It was planned and designed by Eugene Hietpas who built it big and strong enough for the largest person.

Punishments

The stockade "kourt committee" is headed by Vern Arnoldussen and severe punishments have been drawn up for those refusing to grow beards or wear the official shave permit button and for girls not wearing the paint permit. The "kourt" will hold regular sessions within the next few weeks and incarcerate violators of the jubilee celebration edict. Currently a list is being prepared of both men and women to be called before the first meeting of the committee in charge of the stockade.

The POWER of FAITH

by Richard Bradie

AP Newscenter

The Faith of a Stricken young man inspired the town of Cedar City, Utah, into action.

Ross Eager was denied his ambition to become a missionary when he became totally paralyzed from polio. Nevertheless, he married, became a father and supported his family.

When he was recently flown to California for further hospital treatments, his home town, sparked by the Mormon Church, rebuilt his home. "There is something about those kids that helps us all," said his bishop. "You go to help them and come away spiritually uplifted." Eight hundred townspeople, tradesmen, merchants, and members of other faiths as well as his own gave their services or contributed. "I stopped to make a contribution: I came away a richer man," was a comment. In a way, Ross' missionary ambition was realized.

"When, because of the love we all have for you, you are able to bring people together working so happily in performing this labor of love," wrote a project worker, "you truly are performing a mission that few can accomplish in this world."

NOTED CHEMIST SEES VALUE OF CHIROPRACTIC

Among the students of the Palmer School of Chiropractic are three chemists. One, Eric Loffler, holds a master's degree in chemistry from the University of Leipzig, Germany, and has held key positions in the field of chemistry including seven years with the United States government, part of which time was in the army medical center. It was in his laboratories in Boston, where he makes chemical analyses for some 300 doctors including Chiropractors that he was brought to realize the value of Chiropractic.

He noted in many instances that patients under Chiropractic care recovered or improved from diabetes and severe kidney ailments, though these same cases failed to improve other methods of care.

On the strength of these laboratory proofs he determined to study Chiropractic, and enrolled in a Chiropractic College.

To keep Kennedy from storming the nomination fortress on the first convention tally, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and other aspirants counted heavily on Minnesota and New Jersey from these five.

In addition they hoped that Kansas, with 21 votes, and Iowa, with 26, would stick with favorite son governors until there was a chance for a re-alignment after the initial roll Stevenson, who has had two calls. They professed to believe Kennedy would lose support in Indiana, Maryland and Ohio on a second countdown.

Johnson Claims
Furthermore, a considerable portion of votes from the big California and Pennsylvania delegations was claimed Monday for Johnson by Oscar L. Chapman, chairman of the citizens for Johnson committee.

Asked whether Johnson might get 10 or 20 votes from had said the convention was rigged for Kennedy and the California delegation, Chapman said, "he will get wanted no part in the show."

Chapman said also he thinks (D-Minn), who has the 31-vote Brown said he has made up his mind what he is going to do about California's 81-vote Pennsylvania delegation's 81 bows planted on his cheeks by delegation. He wouldn't say "golden girl" greeters and ob-step with his government in making the speech. Although he is himself a well-to-do landowner, as well as a leader of PRI, he is considered a disciple of ex-President Lázaro Cardenas, symbol of the party's left wing and champion of agrarian reform. Cardenas' views are a factor in Mexican policy but not necessarily dominant, especially in the field of foreign relations.

Farm Group Raps Castro
Officials of the PRI remained silent, waiting word from the president himself. The federation of farm organizations said "it is not possible for Mexico, free and sovereign, lover of peace and progress," to side with a young dictator who serves knowingly or otherwise a foreign interest.

Stevenson Arrives
The list of scheduled arrivals also included Adlai E. Stevenson, who has had two calls. They professed to believe Kennedy would lose support in Indiana, Maryland and Ohio on a second countdown.

Furthermore, a considerable portion of votes from the big California and Pennsylvania delegations was claimed Monday for Johnson by Oscar L. Chapman, chairman of the citizens for Johnson committee.

Asked whether Johnson might get 10 or 20 votes from had said the convention was rigged for Kennedy and the California delegation, Chapman said, "he will get wanted no part in the show."

Chapman said also he thinks (D-Minn), who has the 31-vote Brown said he has made up his mind what he is going to do about California's 81-vote Pennsylvania delegation's 81 bows planted on his cheeks by delegation. He wouldn't say "golden girl" greeters and ob-

Both Mexicans and outsiders were equally confused by the remarks that Mexico apparently supports Cuba in its dispute with the United States.

Piedras told a party caucus Thursday that it appeared the United States is "closing the doors of its friendship and understanding in the face of the yearnings of the Cuban people in live in liberty and economic independence."

People Surprised
The statement apparently caught the Mexican people by surprise. Many were torn between their friendships with respective neighbors to the north and east. The blood ties of Latin American durability are with the Cubans and at the same time there are many ties developed in recent years in friendship and trade with the United States. U.S. Sec of State Christian A. Herter was conferring with his aides in Washington today in preparation for a policy meeting Monday with President Eisenhower.

Governor Decides To Remain Neutral

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Los Angeles—Gov. Gaylord Nelson, titular leader of the state Democratic party, arrived here Friday night to take part in the pre-convention activities determined to maintain his neutrality in the fight for the presidential nomination.

The governor is not a delegate because he was a neutral in the Wisconsin primary last spring between Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

Like most Democratic politicians, he sees Kennedy as the clear favorite for the nomination, but he says he will do nothing to influence the Wisconsin Humphrey delegates. The Humphrey delegates, with 10 strategic votes, have been freed, by the withdrawal of their man although they insist they won't make a decision until they know Humphrey's wishes.

Nelson's Position Awkward
Nelson's position is an awkward one, and one that may very well cost him rank and prestige in national politics.

attacking the government of Cuba.

"Will the official commitment contracted by all American countries against economic aggression but respect-just reason can there be for ed?" he asked

He is rated as a possible candidate for the vice presidency on a Kennedy ticket.

But it is unlikely Kennedy will pick a man who has refused to lend him a hand in his year-long campaign for the greatest prize in American politics.

Nelson dismisses the chances of a vice presidential nomination and is worried about offending the influential Wisconsin party people who favor the third nomination of Adlai Stevenson.

As long as there is any chance of a show for Stevenson, Nelson will remain neutral.

Humphrey For VP
The governor who arrived before the Wisconsin delegates told reporters Friday night that if Kennedy is the presidential nominee and consults him, he will urge the nomination of Humphrey for the vice presidency.

If Kennedy does not make the nomination and if Stevenson does, Nelson will work for Kennedy for the vice presidential spot. The inference is that Nelson figures Kennedy to win that he will be content with either Kennedy or Stevenson and with Humphrey or Kennedy as running mates. He has no desire as a gubernatorial candidate for reelection this year to run behind either Sen. Stevenson of Missouri or Johnson of Texas.

Republican Doctrine

The Chicago Tribune usually is a staunch supporter of the Republican party and its candidates. In fact it is so firmly Republican that it sometimes refuses to endorse Republican candidates because they are not Republican enough.

In the present campaign it is supporting Vice President Richard Nixon in his campaign to succeed Mr. Eisenhower in the White House. However, the paper remarked editorially recently that Henry Cabot Lodge would not make a very suitable Republican nominee for vice president. One reason given was that "Lodge was a leader in the movement in the 1952 national convention to scuttle Sen. Robert Taft by taking from him delegates pledged to him from southern states and seating in their place delegates committed to Mr. Eisenhower."

But when that statement was published a Tribune reader quickly pointed out that Mr. Nixon also had been active in the drive against Sen. Taft which many Republicans believe was important in winning the nomination for Mr. Eisenhower.

The Tribune acknowledged the truth of the statement saying that it had forgotten about Mr. Nixon's part in the 1952 convention battle. It then set about to review the situation and it pulled no punches in making it clear that Mr. Nixon "was equally active and just as unrestrained in his accusations against Sen. Taft and his supporters."

Having explained all this and acknowl-

Dr. Linus Pauling, renowned chemist, who has refused to give the Internal Security subcommittee the names of people who helped him collect signatures of scientists in several countries for a petition urging an international nuclear test ban, has written to the New York Times protesting that "the Times is rapidly becoming an unreliable newspaper." But Dr. Pauling is so righteous in his wrath that it appears he is becoming an unreliable scientist.

Dr. Pauling is quite right when he complains that some of the sentences in the Times' article concerning the hearings are worded so as to make it appear that he is practically pro-Communist. But he wants to know who has decided that he is "left of center." Obviously this all depends upon where one stands when one considers various positions Dr. Pauling has taken over the years. Then "left of center" does not seem an extreme epithet and Dr. Pauling makes the same sort of assessment himself when he grumbles that perhaps it was Gerald L. K. Smith who made the assessment.

But the doctor, at present head of the chemistry division and director of a labora-

Philosophic Porpoises

For years scientists experimented with the intelligent quotients of various apes and monkeys on the theory that they were the closest to man in the evolutionary progression. But now a scientist who has been conducting research for five years has come out to prove that the bottle-nosed dolphin, commonly called the porpoise, actually is a lot smarter than the monkeys and may even top man.

Dr. John Lilly, director of the Communications Research Institute in the Virgin Islands, says that dolphins talk to each other, mimic human words and come to each other's rescue in case of distress. Their brains are 40 per cent larger than men's and maybe just as complex.

Anyone who has observed porpoises, either playing in the ocean or going edged its own error, the Tribune says that while it gives it no pleasure to review Mr. Nixon's role in 1952, the Tribune nevertheless likes Nixon. Furthermore, it thinks he's a strong candidate and will make a record in the presidency of which all his countrymen will be proud. It points out further, that after the 1952 convention when Mr. Nixon was in trouble over his practice of accepting financial help from wealthy Californians, Sen. Taft was one of a few Republicans who defended him and denounced those who would have removed him from the ticket.

It now is nearly eight years since the fight over the seating of delegates at the 1952 convention took place. Sen. Taft, who was a skilled politician, well acquainted with all of the tricks of the game, perfectly familiar with the tactics used on both sides in the 1952 fight, was able to forgive Mr. Nixon and to begin his cooperation with the Eisenhower administration only a few weeks after the convention. Sen. Taft set an example in understanding and statesmanship which unfortunately was not followed generally by many of his supporters. The Chicago Tribune has forgiven Mr. Nixon while acknowledging that he had as active a part in the battle as anyone. It is time for all Republicans to forget the bitterness and the hate that was generated in that struggle and remember not only the lessons it taught but also that the people on each side may have learned something from it.

tory at the California Institute of Technology, and former president of the American Chemical society, is particularly wrought up because of the insinuation that his membership in the Soviet Academy of Sciences was "for services rendered." He points to his memberships in scientific academies and societies in a dozen other countries and states quite simply that he and the other American in the Soviet Academy "were elected for our outstanding positions in the scientific world."

It may be that people with no political interests may achieve recognition in Russia, particularly in music such as the Texan, Van Cliburn. But Dr. Pauling is a scientist and he ought to look over the awards in a scientific method. Have any Americans who opposed a nuclear ban been elected to the Soviet Academy? And does Dr. Pauling actually believe that his position in chemistry is so secure that the Soviet Union could overlook his politics in making an award?

The Communists are masters at detecting weaknesses in a man. They seem to have found Dr. Pauling's amazing self-satisfaction and sense of his own importance and they are using it for all its worth. It may be worth quite a bit.

through various routines for a fishy reward, must suspect that there is something in Dr. Lilly's findings. Even a porpoise's expression is benign and jolly as if he were chuckling over a great big, howling secret. Porpoises may have indicated their intelligence many thousands of years ago. They were mammals who spent some time on land and then went back to the sea. Maybe they figured out what walking erect would do to man's innards. Or perhaps they even conceived of what living in modern society would do to man's emotional stability.

Anyway, there is hope for the human race. Dr. Lilly thinks man may be able to learn to speak the dolphin's language and maybe they can be persuaded to come to our rescue in time.

Looking Backward

Webster's Great Words Timely

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 7, 1860.

The sublime and eloquent words of Daniel Webster in his famous reply to Hayne are familiar to most American readers, yet they are worthy of being repeated a thousand times over and are especially appropriate at this juncture. Said he:

"When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in the heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dissonant fragments of a once glorious Union — on States discovered, discordant, belligerent; on a land rent with civil feuds or drenched it may be with fraternal blood?"

"Let their last feeble and lingering glance, rather, behold the glorious ensign of the Republic, now known and honored throughout the earth, still full, high, advanced, its arms and trophies streaming in their original luster, not a single star obscured, bearing for its motto no such miserable interrogatory as 'What is all this worth?' nor those present words of delusion and folly, 'Liberty first and Union afterward,' but every where spread over in characters of living light, blazing in all its ample folds as they float over the sea and the land, and in every wind under the whole heavens, that other sentiment, dear to every American heart —

"Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

23 YEARS AGO

Saturday, July 6, 1935

Construction of an addition to the Appleton Vocational school and remodeling of the present building at an estimated cost of $25,000 was approved by the board of vocational education.

An appeal to congress to expedite the Guffey coal stabilization bill and leave determination of its constitutionality to future court tests was sent to the house ways and means committee by President Roosevelt.

William Strange, Neenah, won the boys singles tennis championship of the city when he defeated Truman Schroeder in the final match of the tournament sponsored under the city's recreational program.

Peter Rassmussen and Frank Klinka attended a code meeting of the barbers' industry at Madison, Friday. A group of those present petitioned Lawrence C. Whitet, state recovery administrator, for a separate hearing from which pro-code barbers would be barred. Whitet indicated he would oppose a hearing that excluded any member of the industry from participation. Three Appleton boys, Charles and Ben Seaborn, and Kirtland Wolter were on an extended motor trip into Canada and eastern United States.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, July 8, 1950

President Truman ordered the army to take over and run the strikebound Rock Island railroad and the striking Switchmen's union went into a huddle to decide what to do about it. The president said government seizure, set for 3 p.m. (C.S.T.), was imperative to protect the national defense and security of the nation.

The cornerstone of Faith Lutheran church was to be laid at special ceremonies July 16 at the construction site on Alice street. The $75,000 structure had been under construction for a little more than a month.

Mrs. Austin Ely and Mrs. K. K. DuVall, Appleton, were elected to fill the unexpired terms of Mrs. Westbrook Steele and Mrs. J. P. Frank on the Appleton Visiting Nurses association board of directors.

George Behling, Appleton, John E. Esler, Kaukauna, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grogan, Kaukauna, were to attend the Jefferson-Jackson day dinner in Milwaukee auditorium that night.

The Best of AMERICAN HERITAGE

Bicycling Was 'Craze' Back in 1890s

BY FRED C. KELLY

When a craze of any kind really catches on in this republic, restraint does not characterize its reception. The great bicycle craze of the Gay Nineties offers a fairly good example. Listen to the editor of the New York Tribune in 1885: "The discovery and progressive improvement of the bicycle is of more importance to Hardly a man now alive participated in the great bicycle craze that swept America in the gay nineties. It lasted only five years but, like the craze for autos and the craze for airplanes that followed, it gave the country new habits, new jokes, new clothes and a brand new outlook. This account is written by one who did participate.

mankind than all the victories and defeats of Napoleon, with the First and Second Punic Wars . . . thrown in."

If this hat-tossing enthusiasm seems to overlook a few other, fairly recent revolutions — steam, railroads, electricity — we may forgive the '90s, for they were quite carried away by the new type of bicycle, which could be ridden by anyone.

The craze hit all ages. It led to a change in women's styles — skirts became shorter — and it started the movement toward decent roads. It was the great leveler, demonstrating that every man is as good as any other and maybe better.

One Every Minute

By 1895 more than 300 manufacturers were producing bicycles, not counting the many small assembly shops — one of these, in Dayton, Ohio, operated by Wilbur and Orville Wright. The biggest company was turning out the machines at the rate of about one every minute. At least a million people in the United States were already a wheel. Armories, roller-skating rinks, and dance halls had become riding academies to teach beginners.

The craze lasted less than five years, but it was so all-pervading that a large part of the advertising in leading magazines had to do with bicycles and accessories. Harper's and Scribner's published long articles and pieces of fiction by well-known authors about bicycles and bicycle tours. Medical journals took it up. The humorous weeklies depended on bicycles for many of their jokes and drawings. Newspapers had their bicycle columnists.

Not Much to Do

Bicycles gave a lift to the whole national state of mind. This could not have come at a more opportune time. In the smaller towns, especially for young people, there was not much that was interesting to do. Public libraries were small or nonexistent and public swimming pools undreamed of. There were no junior baseball leagues, and basketball, invented in '91, had not yet swept the country. It was small wonder that the safety bicycle was accepted as something glorious.

With bicycling, you could ride to another town. Life had been circumscribed, without much social interchange between one town and another 15 or 20 miles away. Though there were railroads, it was not always easy to find a train that would bring you back the same day at a convenient hour.

Made Independent

On the bicycle you could go where you pleased, fixing your own schedule. Soon after I owned a bicycle I rode with two other boys the 16 miles from our Ohio town to Dayton, and at a cost of 50 cents, saw Joseph Jefferson in Rip Van Winkle, the first good actor any of us had ever seen. This was living. Our horizons were broadening.

A big help in this longer distance traffic was the carbide lamp that produced acetylene gas. You filled a little tank with water which dripped down through a wick to a receptacle containing what looked like gray pebbles, and when you held a match to the burner, you got a light better than might be expected — strong enough to show the ruts and holes in the road.

A surprising thing was the number of older people who found the bicycle just what they needed. New York had a bicycle club with membership limited to men at least 60 years old. An enthusiastic rider in Washington was Justice Edward D. White of the U. S. Supreme Court. The Chinese ambassador presented a novel spectacle in

Appleton Cyclists Peddled Along Country Roads in '90s

Bicycling also was a big sport in Appleton in the 1890s. Summer weekends country roads were crowded with cyclists on jaunts to Kaukauna, Neenah or Kimberly.

In those days the purchase of a bike meant your name in the paper, highway reports told whether roads were open for cycle travel and a bicycle built for two was greeted with as much excitement as a brand new car is today.

Biggest Year

The biggest year in Appleton bicycle history was 1896 when the city was host to the League of American Wheel men and state bicycle fans at a meet with the prizes totaling about $1,370. Cyclists from throughout the midwest brought their vehicles to the newly constructed his flowing silken robes, which required him to use a woman's type of wheel.

Society Interested

Bicycling got an added boost when society people took it up. The Michaux Cycle Club, named for a French bicycle inventor, soon had among its members the Vanderbilts, Goulds, and others of the monde. It rented an old armory on upper Broadway where members rode while a band played. What appealed to the members was that they could eat terrapin and other rich foods and, by exercising on the bicycle, keep down the waistline.

Soon they began to ride in groups to the Claremont Inn, on Riverside drive, for breakfast, or to the Westchester Country club for lunch. William K. Vanderbilt had to provide wheels at his Newport mansion for guests who had formerly been content with horses.

Other cycling clubs were being formed. Some would ride about at night with Japanese lanterns. Some, in their enthusiasm, had yells. Doctors were often quoted about the effects of bicycling. The consensus was that not in 200 years had any one thing been of so great benefit to mankind. Thousands

Historical Files of the Post-Crescent indicate that young women were not adverse to cycling back in the good old days. This is a group of Lawrence college students, members of the college bicycle club, who posed in front of Ormsby hall in 1894 before leaving for an organized spin.

Patriotic Documents Now Political Gimmick

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Cuff notes from a political beat.

Times change and with them congressional political campaign gimmicks. Long ago I used to get free seeds sent to a rural home by a congressman who got them from the national government, courtesy of the U. S. taxpayers. Today there are elaborately engraved parchment reproductions of patriotic documents, sent at government expense, and postage free, by solicitous congressmen to thousands of high school graduates. The one at my house wasn't impressed. He is a taxpayer too, he says.

Fred Morton, the bright young investment specialist bumped from his state investment board job a few months ago in a quarrel about his personal investments, has been grabbed up as investment manager by a leading Wisconsin Insurance company.

Two widely known former Vernon county assemblymen, Bert Lewison and Art Mockrud, will compete in the September primary for the Republican nomination for the assembly in that district.

There is talk that Fred Pfennig, former Kenosha assemblyman and now Kenosha county board chairman, will run for the state senate seat to be vacated by W. F. Trinke of Lake Geneva.

DIFFICULTIES

Talk among Democrats suggests that there were more difficulties in the pre-convention state platform writing sessions than the dispatches at the time suggested. Legislators and representatives of Gov. Nelson had their hands filled trying to tone down some of the exuberant proposals of some of the non-office holding party politicians that would have been embarrassing, if not impossible to achieve, if the Democrats again won the fall elections.

Mrs. Ruth Doyle, who served in the legislature about a decade ago, is running again for the assembly from a "safe" Madison district on the Democratic ticket. The seat is being vacated by Richard Cates, who struck many critical by-standers as one of the most promising newcomers of the 1959 session, but who decided that he prefers private life and law practice.

There has been a preceptible slowing down of the work of the Continuing Revenue Survey (blue ribbon) commission since the current state financial situation cleared up and it became evident that there was no pressure for a report to the 1959 legislature. The Commission has not met as a group for many weeks, and the onset of the political campaign almost surely means that the work of its working subcommittees will be delayed considerably.

One of this correspondent's favorite civil servants — and the favorite of all others who know her — has retired from her job in the legislative reference library. Mrs. Hazel Kuehn was one of the most useful and dedicated state officers this column has known over the years.

FULL SLATE

Headquarters Democrats say they are reasonably sure of having a candidate for the legislature in each of the 100 assembly districts. If they make it, it will be the first time within the memory of living Democrats that the goal has been achieved. Two years ago Chairman Patrick J. Lucey proudly reported assembly candidates in 97 districts, which was a little better than the Republicans managed.

For all of their confident talk, Democrats have done less than they had hoped in providing strong candidates for congressmen in two strategic districts, the Eighth and the Seventh. Significantly, it now appears likely also that there will be a lone Democratic candidate in each, signifying, perhaps, that the outlook is not as rosy as the Democrats tell themselves at their caucuses. Reps. John W. Byrnes and Melvin R. Laird of the two districts have strong personal organizations and are canny campaigners.

The contrast between the new tax commissioner and his predecessors is strong. Commissioner John Gronouski is a working Democrat, tells interviewers his hobby is politics. His immediate predecessors, Harry Harder and Arthur Wegner, were chosen by Republican governors but took no part in political affairs whatever.

(For several succeeding weeks guest columnists, men and women prominent in Wisconsin governmental and political affairs, will offer their views and their reports in this space while your correspondent goes on holiday. The guest contributors' ideas will be their own. They were offered complete freedom of subject and treatment. In the field of partisan politics there will be essays by Republicans and Democrats.)

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knabell

Democratic summary at Los Angeles: Jack Kennedy is too young, too Catholic, too ailing, too rigged — and two to one to be nominated.

Health is no longer an issue at the Democratic convention. Delegates agree that every major candidate has had a nice, uptown disease and will sweep every hospital ward in the nation.

Lyndon Johnson says the nation needs "seasoned" leadership. Johnson faces Kennedy with a new slogan: "Sage before beauty."

Stu Symington's manager, Charlie Brown, says his candidate is a "semi-dark horse." He means everybody can see Stu all right, but nobody can tell whether he's going any place.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: The use of AUTHOR as a verb as in "He authored those articles." is not generally acceptable. It is much better to say, "He IS the AUTHOR of those articles," or, "He WROTE those articles."

Often Mispronounced: Ante (naturally in the nude). Pronounce an-ah-tyu-rell, principal accent on final syllable.

Often Misspelled: Honorary (conferring honor). Onerary (fit for burdens).

Synonyms: Dry (adjective), and, parched, moistureless, juiceless, barren, tame; sarcastic, rapid, lifeless, dull, tedious, uninteresting, monotonous.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: discreetly; cautiously; prudently. "She quickly and discreetly closed the door."

16th Century Painting Given to St. Norbert

A 16th century painting of the head of Christ, by an unknown artist, has been presented to St. Norbert college by Dr. Robert L. Cowles, Green Bay.

The painting is valued at at least $350, but could be worth more, depending on who the artist was. Dr. Cowles said he obtained the painting, which is entitled "Ecce Homo," in Vienna.

Public Trap Shooting at the Outagamie county Conservation club's trap range currently is drawing the attention of many Fox Cities gunners. The club sponsors the shooting but you do not have to be a

the firing line in the other photo. In the foreground is Thomas Eisch, 4405 W. Spencer street. Shooting is Gary Gardner, of 1738 N. Richmond street. Next to Gardner is Larry Lawrence, 1425 W. Second street, one of those in charge of the range. The range is open for public shooting every Thursday afternoon and evening and on weekends when weather permits.

You're the Skipper

Describes Ride in Turbo-Jet Craft

BY JOHN BOHANNAN
No projections beneath the hull. My first ride in a turbo-jet hull, and it hauls easily on a propelled inboard motorboat trailer. reminded me of a fast cross-country ride in a sports car. The boat was a 16-foot fiber-haust stream pushing against glass runabout powered by a 135 h.p. V-8 engine directly coupled through a universal to a three-stage turbo pump discharging water at 65 miles per hour through the transom above the water line. The water intake was through the bottom of the hull near the stern. Steering was by vanes, directing the stream to starboard or port. A 3-position toggle switch controlled a hydraulically-operated gate, allowing full flow of water astern for forward motion, shutting off the stream completely for neutral, and deflecting it under the hull for reverse. The boat can't be steered when backing. However, we had no trouble reversing out of the slip, and the boat was extremely maneuverable in forward gear pivoting within her own length at slow speed.

Streak of Foam

At the wheel was Rich Lowe, whose grandfather built marine engines just after the turn of the century. He tramped the heel-and-toe foot throttle, the seat nudged me in the back as the tachometer spun around to 3800 r.p.m. I looked over my shoulder to see a white streak of foam shooting 50 feet astern from the jet. Acceleration was startling.

"Hang on!" said Rich. I grabbed the hand rail over the instrument panel. He put the wheel hard over. A rooster tail shot high in the air and we made a 180-degree turn in less than a boat length. Next time we made an even tighter turn and spun out like a racing car, ending up planing backwards with some of the jet stream running down the back of my neck.

The following sequence of events was enough to shock and amaze anyone who has spent very many years around boats. We deliberately bounced off the side of the river bank like a billiard ball, jumped over a floating tree with a thumping sound but no loss of speed.

Very Sensitive

I took the wheel for the rest of the trip and found the helm very sensitive, with a tendency for one to oversteer. All turns must be made with power. Jet steering requires practice but it doesn't take long to acquire the knack.

The foot throttle, handy for maneuvering in shoals and tight spots, stays put in any selected position. Any boat that will plane in three inches of water and take the punishment we gave it would seem to be a good special purpose craft. There are

by Jay Reed

The June issue of the "Wisconsin Conservation Bulletin" devotes pages 19, 20, 21 and 22 to a story and pictures of and about the Tiffany wildlife area in far western Wisconsin.

Since it is, as the boss said one pay day, my duty to inform our readers where to hunt, I herewith strongly recommend that all who are inclined to take up a gun in the fall read this particular "Bulletin" article. Read it, my friends, and make plans for at least one or two trips to this wildlife area.

—oO—
Let me provide a few geographical facts and then we'll get into the details of why I regard this particular area so highly. The Tiffany wildlife area is in Buffalo county—exactly 232 miles from Appleton. You can drive right to the heart of it by taking Highway 10 straight across the state to Durand. At that point you are on the banks of the Chippewa river. Take Highway 37 south 16 miles and you are in Nelson. Between Durand and Nelson there are several drive-off spots with parking areas provided by the conservation department and local gun clubs. The drive over will take you five hours or less if you go non-stop.

—oO—
There are few places in the state where you'll find better duck shooting. And you won't be overcrowded although more and more hunters are coming to the area every year. You can jump shoot from a canoe or, by walking, you can pass shoot or you can string your blocks on any one of a hundred potholes and you'll get shooting.

—oO—
If you go there you'll hear names such as "the old sand road," "Dark slough," "the wide place in Dark slough," "the ranger shack," "Stump slough," "Smith slough," "the Pepin road," "Armstrong lake" and many others. These are points of location in the vast, swampy region and are used to define particular hunting areas.

—oO—
The Tiffany also offers excellent deer hunting if you're not above shooting whitetails with a shotgun. The first two days of shooting the last several years have been "any deer" seasons. But that's no reason you have to shoot a doe. The bucks are there if you hunt them. The biggest deer I ever killed in my life was a 12-point, 200-pounds-plus swamp buck whose rack hangs on the wall of my den today. It came from this wildlife area.

—oO—
It's nothing, these days, for a man to drive 200 miles for a weekend of hunting and I think it would be well worth anyone's time to give this area in western Wisconsin a try. promise that you'll come home with some birds. I would bet as far as ducks are concerned I wouldn't, for the world, you money, however, that you'll get some shooting—plenty of it—and that you'll want to go back.

I've often disagreed with some of the "Bulletin's" stories but in this case I think it's 100 per cent right. The Tiffany Wildlife area is a terrific place to hunt.

Outdoor Recreation Has High Dollar Value

Anglers Spend $39 Million Alone On Equipment, Trips to Best Spots

Madison, Wis. — The dollar value of Wisconsin lakes as recreational resources has been estimated by a survey conducted in 1958. There are an estimated 224,000 outdoor motors in use in Wisconsin and probably 300,000 boats. The average boat and motor combination will be a 16-foot boat and motor which together with trailer and other incidentals have a value of $1,800 when purchased new. Each season with about 20,000,000 pounds of edible fish caught in perhaps 50,000,000 angling hours.

Swimming facilities have such a high value as recreational assets that "we can deduce that this activity on the enjoyment of catch, public waters of the state has a value of $30,000,000 annually," he continued. "but the food value alone is about $2,000,000 as a recreational resource, and incidentals such as blind rentals, and other within the state inherent in this enjoyment is protection paid about $3,200,000 for this resource value to about and sound management of the surface water resource and its products, provision for its use and the meshing of uses concluded that aquatic recreation is an immense asset of the resource."

State Notes Milestone in Tree Acreage

Forest Industry Says Total Now Exceeds 1 Million

Wisconsin Rapids — This year is a milestone in this state's history of progressive forestry management, with the industrial forest acreage within it exceeding one million acres for the first time. That's the keynote of recent declarations by industrial foresters of Wisconsin and of a new study of Wisconsin forestry development by E. B. Hurst, timberlands manager of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company here.

Fourteen Wisconsin wood-using industries, paper of lumber companies, now own 1,053,087 acres of growing forest.

Trees Planted

More than 64,000,000 trees have been planted on them to date.

The vast effort and investment has been largely aimed at assuring a perpetual supply of pulpwood for the state's paper and pulp industry.

The Wisconsin pulp and paper industry is now consuming wood at a rate of about 2,000,000 cords yearly. About 40 per cent of the gross demand is produced within Wisconsin.

Greater Demand

Economists have forecast that total American consumption of paper and paper board is likely to exceed current consumption by 55 per cent at the end of the century, meaning that the demand for forest raw materials will rise proportionately.

About a third of the total production of pulpwood in the country today is from old growth. By the end of the century it has been said by experts, the industry will be dependent upon artificially planted trees. A total of 40 years' growth is harvested at about 40 years' growth, suggesting that the planting program will need to be enlarged from this year forward, according to trade circles.

State Legionnaires To Meet in Green Bay Next Weekend

An estimated 10,000 American Legionnaires will invade Green Bay July 15, 16 and 17 for the 42nd annual Wisconsin-American Legion convention in the WBAY building. Department Commander Lloyd J. Berken, Appleton, will preside.

The American Legion auxiliary will meet at the same time at the Washington Junior High school, Green Bay. Mrs. Rosea Smith, Department President, Wisconsin Rapids, will be in charge.

The national commander of the American Legion, Martin J. McKneally of New York, will address the convention and Gen. Mark Ruffner, NATO, who will be the principal speaker at the banquet.

Teenagers Attend Appletonian Gets Summer Institute Honorary Degree Of Masonic Rite

Two Appleton area youths are attending the 31st annual National High School institute on the Evanston campus of Northwestern university. James L. Miller, 1910 N. Laue street, is enrolled in the engineering and science division and Jean Manders, 908 Fourth street, West De Pere, is in the radio-TV-film department of the speech division.

The 519 students at the institute have completed their junior years in high school and are studying with Northwestern faculty members in the schools of music, education, speech, journalism and technological institute.

Seek Higher Standards For Migrants

Seasonal Workers' Welfare Is Public Concern, Says Nelson

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson today told a new state advisory committee on migrant workers that the problems of seasonal field hands in Wisconsin are "proper concerns of the public conscience."

Without offering details, the governor said he wants to examine the possible need for further legislation. Migrant labor is apparently expanding in Wisconsin in a permanent feature of the harvesting and food processing plants.

The objective of public policy should be to establish employment standards that are sufficiently high to enable them to support their families, protect their health and furnish a wholesome home and social environment for themselves and their children, Nelson told the committee.

Such objectives have not been met in the state, the governor added.

Competition Cited

The committee consisting of employer, labor, civic and religious group spokesmen, headed by Prof. Elizabeth Brandes, University of Wisconsin, widely known worker for civil rights.

Nelson said that the so-called "economic level" is affected by wages and standards of migrant workers because they are in competition with them.

The products must compete in a national market. Low standards for migrant workers are reflected in a lower standard of living for the farmer who does his own work, the governor said.

The state now has laws governing education, health care and compensation of migrants. The governor's new commission is to supervise enforcement of those laws and John Sidney Wells, 426 E. Roosevelt street, has been elected knight of the York Cross of Honor, highest honorary degree in the York rite of Freemasonry. The degree is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite.

He is the 8,027th person in 31 years to receive the award from the 4-million-member fraternity.

Wells was master of Way-erly lodge of Masons, high priest of Appleton chapter, Royal Arch Masons, master of Warren council, Royal and Select Masters and commander of Appleton commandery, Knights Templar.

He is assistant to the president and general manager of Wisconsin-Michigan Power company.

Accordion Symphony To Play in National Contest in Chicago

The Concerto Accordion symphony of Appleton will compete in the American Accordionists association national championship contest Sunday in Chicago.

The group will leave by bus at 5:30 a.m. Sunday.

Larry Daehn will conduct the band as it plays his arrangement of Tchaikovsky's "March Slav" at 1:30 p.m. at the Pick-Congress hotel.

Without offering details, the governor said he wants to examine the possible need for further legislation. Migrant labor is apparently expanding in Wisconsin in a permanent feature of the harvesting and food processing plants.

BOATING BRIEFS

by Skipper Sam

IF YOU KEEP YOUR BOAT TIED TO A PIER OR OTHER ANCHORAGE, a tailored set of rules for the best in equipment can make it a pleasure. One of the great things about a boat is that it can be used for a variety of purposes. For example, you can use it for a day trip, or you can use it for a weekend trip. You can use it for a family vacation, or you can use it for a business trip. You can use it for a variety of other purposes. The key is to make sure you have the right equipment for the job.

'Mule Skinner Blues' On Top in Fox Cities

After Month as Hit Tune, Record

By Fendermen Remains Favorite

BY DICK DISC
The Fox Cities' record fans stick with "Mule Skinner Blues." The Fendermen's version of this howling, hillbilly number has been on top for over a month now and is still going strong.

The cavemen take over second place this week as the tune about the comic strip character "Alley-Oop" is the runner up in the survey.

One new song is added to the top 10 this week. It's "Tell Laura That I Love Her" the pretty song by Ray Peterson.

Nationwide, the top tune, according to Billboard, is "Everybody's Somebody's Fool" which has dropped to last place in this area, and "Alley-Oop" second here, is

TV Finding Way to Mom's Pocketbook

By Cynthia Lowry
AP Radio-TV Writer

New York —P— Mother— young and middle-aged, slim and comfortably rounded — is the most frequent figure in TV commercials, a research firm has concluded. But in commercials as in real life, women must be treated with care.

For instance, says the current bulletin of Schwerin Research Corp., "Commercials that depict mother confronted by mountains of dirty clothes and skyscrapers of unwashed dishes have usually failed — and often boomeranged."

Not only do homemakers dislike commercial stress on the drudgery involved in daily routine, but they don't like ones that depict mother as an incompetent before she bought the product.

What does go down well with the women in the TV audience is the "maternal mood commercial" — mother and child in a peaceful, romantic setting with mood music, says Schwerin. Another successful approach to mother's pocketbook is the sort of commercial which shows — for instance — a listless child restored to normal, happy energy. But this can be overdone: a commercial which definitely was not effective, showed her, in her incompetence, just a once-tired child restored to such bursting energy he was duct to banish them.

also number two in the nation. Here's the top 10:
1. "Mule Skinner Blues" by the Fendermen.
2. "Alley-Oop" by the Holly Wood Argyles.
3. "Look For A Star" by Gary Mills.
4. "My Home Town" by Paul Anka.
5. "Please Help Me, I'm Falling" by Hank Locklin.
6. "Because They're Young" by Duane Eddy.
7. "When Will I Be Loved" by the Everly Brothers.
8. "Tell Laura That I Love Her" by Ray Peterson.
9. "Image of a Girl" by the Safaris.
10. "Everybody's Somebody's Fool" by Connie Francis.

"Itsy Bitsy Teenie Weenie Yellow Polka Dot Bikini" by Brian Hyland. This tune has been out for several weeks now and has created a nationwide storm. It's a cute novelty tune that features a deep voiced girl who asks questions like "Tell us what she wore," and others. The answers come in the rest of the lyrics. The song is well done and one of the cutest novelty numbers we've heard in a long time. Good beat adds, too.

"Night Train" by the Viscounts. Standard makes good modern recording could well be the headline for this number. It's done in a good brassy, rocking modern style that is quite superb. The other side is a haunting version of Gershwin's "Summertime." Both are top potchers.

New albums include: "Clap Hands Here Comes Rosie" with Rosemary Clooney. Swinging standards and a few new ones included in this haggly-go-lucky album of fast moving songs. Hear the McGuire Sisters' old "Something's Gotta Give," "Give Me the Simple Life" and others. Fine work at top speed on a top album.

The researchers, I'm sure, have hit upon something valuable. I know that I am often mildly irked when I see those filthy "before" kitchen sinks, walls and floors which presumably would remain covy. But this can be overdone: a commercial which definitely was not effective, showed her, in her incompetence, just a once-tired child restored to such bursting energy he was duct to banish them.

'Tunnel of Love' Next Production At Fish Creek

Post-Crescent News Service

Fish Creek — The Peninsula Players' second offering of the current season will be the sparkling, sophisticated and very successful Broadway comedy, "The Tunnel of Love."

"The Tunnel of Love" opening at 8:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the theater-in-a-garden, is an adaptation of Peter de Vries' best-selling novel of the same name. It examines frivolously the fortunes and misfortunes of a married couple who, after four years of childless marriage, undertake to adopt a child.

In the leading roles at the Door county theater are Miss Nancy Haddon and Ralph Milson, currently playing featured roles in "Make a Million."

New Convicts Err

Oklahoma City—P—An inexperienced crew of convicts, who make Oklahoma car license plates, was blamed for a number of duplicate tags. It estimated there were 70 twin tags and police were notified of the error.

Sunday School to Be Wednesdays At Faith Lutheran

Nursery and pre-kindergarten children of Faith Lutheran church will attend Sunday school in the middle of the week beginning in October.

The congregation's board of education made the change after authorization by the voters' assembly. Additional space was needed because of the growth of the Sunday school. The sessions, open to children who have reached the age of 3 by Oct. 1, will be from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Many "Do It Yourself" Projects at W. T. Grants

The W. T. Grant store, located at the Valley Fair Shopping Center, is catering more of materials to make those "do it yourself" projects and hobbies. First and foremost is the unique tool shop featuring tools for both the hobbyist and professional. Grants is one of the few stores in the valley area interested in any individual's problems or questions concerning home projects. The store has a factory trained expert to demonstrate and instruct on the practical use of any tools in stock. These range from the famous DeWalt work shop for Dad, to the safe but practical electric jig saws for Junior. The firm advises asking Grant's has a sporting goods section. Included here are fishing supplies, outdoor motors, lawn games and swimming equipment. The firm is presently expanding this department to give the customer a greater variety from which to choose.

Grants are busy now with the big blanket sale going on this week at the store at Valley Fair. Many blankets are on sale at great savings, including Kitty rayon acrilan, extra long, the super-size decorator blankets with Mirth checks or Merry plaids, the Wamilton 100 per cent acrilan and an electric blanket with nine warmth ranges. All Grants blankets are unconditionally guaranteed against moth damage and only 50 cents deposit holds your choice on Grant's layaway plan.

Tour Members Pack for 23-Days Abroad

Saturday, July 9, 1960 Appleton Post-Crescent A14

BY KATHY REARDON
Post-Crescent Society Editor

Although days have been crossed off calendars and hours ticked off clocks, tomorrow still seems like a long time away for the travelers going to Europe with Charlie House. However, for those with last minute packing, the day will dawn too soon.

With the luggage limit set by the airlines, what to take posed a serious problem for the anxious tourists. Most have resorted to the convenient drip-dry, wash 'n wear attire.

Made Wardrobe

One young woman, Miss Rosalyn Sorensen, 619 E. Randall street, made most of her wardrobe during the weeks preceding take-off time. Ap- pensen's grandparents were in due time, for she was all packed by Wednesday.

Her attire consists of three traveling outfits, a dressier costume, bermudas and a swimming suit for "swimming in the French Riviera." Miss Sorensen, a teletype operator at Western Condensing company, had her mind set on going to Florida, but, not wanting to travel alone, she took her father's suggestion to sign up for the organized tour.

"I've never flown before," she admitted, although she was not too skeptical of the airline's ability to get her there. The tour will land in Copenhagen, where Miss Sorensen's grandparents were born.

"I am planning to save a coin from each country we visit and have a bracelet made when I get back," she added. She also mentioned looking forward to going with Mr. House, whom she met for the first time when the tour members gathered for a briefing and get together.

Who Feeds Cat?

What to do with the cat posed the biggest problem for the Misses Anne and Agnes Elias, 113 W. Winnebago street. They are sure he will get good care, but will miss him—and vice versa.

The women also are acquainted with the ease in upkeep of drip dry fashions and have included them in their wardrobe. This tour abroad also will be a first for them. Miss Anne Elias added that they are taking a small travel iron as an added assurance of keeping their clothes in order.

Next to housing the cat, their next worry or concern was their passport picture. "We really look as if we are mad at someone in those photographs," one added. "Oh, my mother always wanted audience with Pope John."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stark, 1707 S. Bouten street, took college prep courses in school and would her passport. She had to ob- scure still travel. We like to see the countries we visit her baptismal certificate, and the tour sounded like it was meant for us. In fact, we in student in high school, ob- were the first to sign up for tained some foreign language break away from the tour for in Appletton Sunday noon fill- it." Mrs. Stark put in General cards from the library in an effort to have an understand- many and to see the things a and Charlie House.

Takes Exams
Taking college board exam- inations added to the prepara- tion flurry of Miss Barbara Balza, 533 W. Seymour street.

Mrs. Henry Balza and Daughter Barbara, 533 W. Seymour street, check on last minute packing details before closing their suitcases.

She and her mother, Mrs. Henry Balza, are going on the tour. "My mother speaks German," she commented, "since many of her ancestors were from Germany." The mother and daughter also are including wash 'n wear fashions in their wardrobe. Many pairs of shoes, of course they were taken by all photographs. "My mother always wanted audience with Pope John."

Birth Not Registered
Mrs. Balza had a minor of places being visited and also took college prep courses in school and would her passport. She had to ob- scure still travel. We like to see the countries we visit her baptismal certificate, and the tour sounded like it was meant for us. In fact, we in student in high school, ob- were the first to sign up for tained some foreign language break away from the tour for in Appletton Sunday noon fill- it." Mrs. Stark put in General cards from the library in an effort to have an understand- many and to see the things a and Charlie House.

Miss Rosalyn Sorensen, 619 E. Randall street, confers with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sorensen, on places to see while she is on the organized European tour with Charlie House. She hopes to save a coin from each country to put on a bracelet when she returns home.

Little Chute Setting for Ceremony

St. John Catholic church, Little Chute, was the scene of the 9 a. m. double ring wedding today in which Miss Darlene M. Peeters was married to Michael B. Bevers. Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Peeters, 127 W. Lincoln avenue, Little Chute, are parents of the bride, and Mr. Bevers is the son of Mrs. Adrian Bevers, 1026 N. Grand avenue, Little Chute. The Rev. Martin Vosbeek celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Linda Bevers, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Andrew Stumpf, Jr., Little Chute, Miss Carla McCabe, Florissant, Mo., and Miss Carolyn Skalmusky, Coldwater, Mich. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Pat Egan, Kaukauna.

Guests attended a breakfast and dinner at the bride's parents' home. A reception and dance will be held at Van Auel's, Hollandtown.

The couple will honeymoon in northern Wisconsin, then reside in Little Chute. Mr. and Mrs. Bevers graduated from St. John Catholic High school, Little Chute. The bride works for Kools Brothers, Inc., and her husband is employed by the Appleton Coated Paper company.

Clean Woodwork By Easy Method

To keep varnished or stiel- lated woodwork clean wash with a cloth wrung from warm soap or detergent suds. Then rinse with clear water. Wipe dry with a soft cloth. Lightly rub with furniture polish, if desired.

The Misses Anne and Agnes Elias, 113 W. Winnebago street, wonder if the cat will miss them while they are gone. Felines and canines alike will miss the sisters' attention at mealtimes.

Household Miracles

The word "miracle" has been widely applied to modern home laundering — "miracle" fabrics, equipment and laun- dry aids. But the modern homemaker can expect no miracles unless she helps to perform them.

However, instead of time and effort, today's homemaker need only to follow the simple laundering instructions provided by manufacturers in order to turn out clean, bright washing—every day of the week, if necessary.

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

Miss Alice Marie Jansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jansen, 216 Maria street, Kaukauna, became the bride of Eugene Van Eyck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Van Eyck, 112 Fourth street, Kaukauna, at 10 a. m. today.

The Rev. Andrew Quella of- ficiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass at Holy Cross Catholic church, Kaukauna.

Miss Elaine Jansen was her sister's maid of honor and Jean Van Deraa, Little Chute, was bridesmaid. Mary Beth Marquardt, Kaukauna, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

The bridegroom was attend- ed by his uncle, Nick Van Eyck, Kaukauna, as best man and Robert Guliani, Norway, Mich., brother of the bride. Ushering duties were shared by Tom Van Gompel and Ray Gillings, both of Kaukauna and ring bearer was Joseph Malsavage, Kaukauna, cousin of the bridegroom.

The Columbus club will be the setting for the supper, re- ception and dance. After a trip to northern Wisconsin, the couple will reside at 120 W. Thirteenth street, Kaukauna.

The bride is a graduate of St. John Catholic High school, Little Chute, and is employed at Appleton Machine company. Her husband graduated from Kaukauna High school and works at Wisconsin Chromum corporation.

Correction

In the 50th wedding anniver- sary story of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ott, 808 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, the Post-Crescent erroneously stated that the officiating minister at their wed- ding on June 22, 1910, was the Rev. Roger Wentz. The couple were married by the late Rev. E. L. Worthman.

UW Regents Favor Sharp Housing Boost

Advocate 6,350 New Units on Madison Campus by 1970

Madison — A stepped-up University of Wisconsin housing program, which would provide 6,350 new units on the Madison campus by 1970, was recommended Friday by the university board of regents.

The construction program was urged by Newell J. Smith, director of residence halls, who described the situation for women students this fall as "critical." He recommended immediate action on 1,200 units.

Smith estimated the 10-year program would cost about $42 million, not including land purchases. It would provide 4,580 units for undergraduates, 1,500 for graduate students.

Women Seek Housing
George S. Murphy, director of the student housing bureau, also backed the plan. He said about 350 women are registered for classes this fall but haven't been able to find housing.

For men students, he said, the outlook is for "facilities taxed to capacity" if enrollment statistics hold firm.

The construction program is pinned to an expected enrollment boost to about 28,000 at Madison by 1970. Enrollment last year reached 18,000. The first stage of the 10-year program could be completed in about three years.

The regents, who decided to present the plan to the Coordinating Committee on Higher Education, probably would seek the funds for the project from a federal agency. No tax funds are called for in the construction program. Student rental fees would be used to amortize the federal loans.

Active in Community

Dr. Alton has been chairman of hospital and home boards in Wisconsin and is on the governing boards of the new Methodist Manor, West Allis; Bellin Memorial hospital, Green Bay, and Methodist Deaconess home, Milwaukee.

He also was chairman of the board of higher education of the Methodists' Wisconsin conference and is a trustee of Lawrence college. He is a reserve member of the Methodist judicial council.

He has been president of the Appleton Ministerial association, a member of the executive committee of the Appleton Human Rights committee, a director of the YMCA and United Community Services and a member of the Kiwanis club.

Dr. and Mrs. Alton, who live at 403 E. Franklin street, are the parents of Mrs. Harold Thor Hansen, Iron Mountain, Mich., and Bruce Alton, a junior at Ohio Wesleyan.

Dr. Alton's family and members of his congregation expect to attend the consecration service at Grand Rapids Sunday.

Reeseville, Detroit Youths Drown in Separate Accidents

From The Associated Press

A 17-year-old Detroit youth and a 14-year-old Reeseville boy drowned Friday in separate accidents.

John Adams, Detroit, drowned while trying to save Audrey Benson, both employed in the kitchen of a boys camp on Fourth lake, seven miles northeast of Rhineland.

Miss Benson and another girl were tossed into the lake when their canoe tipped. Adams tried to save her but she struggled frantically. He disappeared under the water and did not reappear. Her companion held out a paddle, and she clung to it until help arrived.

George Will, rural Reeseville, drowned while swimming in a water-filled ditch near his farm home. Authorities say the boy evidently stepped into a deep hole.

2,150 Jobs Expected To Open in State From Expansion of Plants

Madison — The state department of resource development said Friday it expected 2,150 new manufacturing jobs to develop from plant expansions in Wisconsin so far in 1960.

The department submitted to Gov. Gaylord Nelson a re-gram. Student rental fees would be used to amortize the federal loans.

It estimated that new manufacturing plant expansion space costing $25 024,065, including equipment, was added in the period.

David Carley, department director, told Nelson that 23 new industries were established from January through June, with five out-of-state firms establishing branch plants, and four plants re-located in Wisconsin from outside the state.

What brought an end to the craze, around the turn of the century, was, first of all, the development of the interurban electric railways; and then the coming of the auto- mobile — not very practical in 1900, but good enough to indicate the explosive shape of things to come.

St. Mark's Lutheran To Lay Cornerstone

Ceremony at Site of New Church
To Follow Worship Service Sunday

Neenah — Laying of the cornerstone for its nearly-completed new church has been set for 10:45 a. m. Sunday by the congregation of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church.

After the 9:30 a. m. service, the congregation will proceed by car from its temporary worship quarters at the Boys' Brigade building to its future location on S. Green Bay road for the cornerstone ceremony.

The Rev. Charles Luhn, organizer and first pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will officiate and place appropriate historical items of the congregation in the cornerstone container.

Construction of the church is in its final stages and the congregation expects to begin using its new facilities within a few weeks. The $90,000 first unit project provides a sanctuary for worship, seating 192, and a Sunday school wing.

St. Mark's Lutheran church was organized by St. Paul's Lutheran church of which the Rev. Arthur R. Tingley is pastor. It began holding services in September of 1957 and was organized in February of 1958 by the Rev. Mr. Luhn who was later called to be its first pastor.

"While our cornerstone laying has been delayed by the wet spring," he said, "by having it now we shall be offering our people a first chance to view the new church in its last stage of construction."

Neenah Junior Red Cross Aids Exchange Pupil

Gives $400 to American Field
Service Program

Neenah — Contributions totaling $400 have been given to the American field service program and $229 has been sent to the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year, according to a report submitted to the board of education by Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes. Junior Red Cross chairman for the Neenah chapter.

The Junior Red Cross is co-sponsoring with the AAUW a foreign student on an exchange basis through the American field service. This student will attend regular high school classes.

Each room in each school, both public and parochial, participated 100 per cent in the Junior Red Cross program and the children donated $410 to the organization, three more than Washington.

Gift boxes again were sponsored and 319 were sent, each box worth $1.75.

Favors and place mats were made as part of classroom art activities to be sent to state hospitals to brighten special days for veterans. The advanced craft workshop American Red Cross children's fund was given $100 Wednesday nights at Kimberly school.

Playgrounds Again Report Record Totals

Neenah — Youngsters this week continued to establish attendance records at Neenah playgrounds. The largest attendance on record for a fourth of July week was reported, almost doubling last year's total for the same period.

Total for the week was 7,340, upping the season attendance to 30,729. Total registration for the week was 2,279. Laudan park reported the largest attendance, 1,046, just three more than Washington.

Cowboy and Indian day was the big drawing card with many sites having from 125 to 150 children participating.

There are still openings in the advanced craft workshop American Red Cross children's fund was given $100 Wednesday nights at Kimberly school.

Officers of the Oshkosh State College Alumni association were named at a meeting at the college Friday. Left to right, seated, are Mrs. Philip Nelson, president; Mrs. Robert Macke, Jr., secretary; and Mrs. Warner J. Geiger, executive secretary. Standing are Warner J. Geiger, treasurer; and Ray Javenkoski, newly elected to the board of directors. Absent was Miss Evelyn Draeger, vice president. All are from Oshkosh.

Missionary to Give Sermon at Baptist Church

Guests to Preach
At Our Saviour's
Episcopal Service

Neenah — Three Twin City churches will have guest pastors for worship services Sunday.

Speaking at Whiting Memorial Baptist church services at 7:45 and 10 a. m. Sunday will be the Rev. Jay Cedarholm, missionary of the American Baptist convention to El Salvador.

After the second service a potluck picnic will be held at Doty park, beginning at 11:30 a. m. Congregation members will have an opportunity to talk informally with the Rev. Mr. Cedarholm.

Hearthstone club is sponsoring the picnic, which is open to all who would like to meet the missionary. Edmund Robinson is club president.

The missionary was a classmate of the Rev. K. Aart Van Dam.

The Rev. Robert L. Jacoby of Nashota again will occupy the pulpit at St. Thomas Episcopal church during the absence of the Rev. Thomas K. Chaffee who is on vacation.

Industrial Park Site Bought at Winneconne

Chamber of Commerce Reports Firm
Is Interested in Moving Into Area

Winneconne — Purchase of an 80-acre farm for use as an industrial park site has been announced by the Winneconne Chamber of Commerce.

The farm, located just west of the village limits, was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Emil D. Drews. Members of the committee in charge explained that the site was selected because of the ideal industrial development possibilities. There is an immediate water supply and unlimited electrical facilities in the area.

Plan Annexation
The transaction was completed by Al Broehn, chamber secretary of the committee in charge explained of commerce president, James Coughlin and Richard Altendorf. Plans call for immediate annexation of the property to the village.

At the July chamber session, representatives of the industry contemplating moving to the village. Questions concerning the firm, its present standing terms from 1947 to 1953, died and reason for moving were discussed.

Chamber members felt that since the members as a whole had not been briefed on the rapidly developing industrial expansion project further discussion was postponed until a special meeting planned for Monday night.

Daredevils To Perform At County Fair

Auto Driving Team
To Stage Crashes,
Precision Events

Audiences at the Outagamie County fair in Seymour will be treated to thrills, chills and spills Wednesday night when the Trans-World Auto Daredevils take over the grandstand track arena for their first and only appearance.

The death-defying troupe will be headed by the Four Falconers, considered by some to be the finest team of precision stunt drivers in the country.

A fleet of new cars will be used in the driving events and obsolete and worn out cars will be used in the crash sequences.

The Trans-World troupe, appearing annually at top state and district fairs, concentrates on skillful driving patterns in teams of two and four as well as on staged crash rolls of stock automobiles, crashes into burning barriers and many other hair-raising stunts designed to keep audiences on the edge of their seats.

World famous clowns add plenty of comedy in contrast to the strong suspense created by the crash stunts.

All in all their performance promises to be an action-packed, thrill-charged spectacle, appealing to young and old alike.

Approve Plans For $80,000 Church Work

10 Classrooms
For Winneconne
Projected Addition

Winneconne — Members of St. Paul's Lutheran congregation have approved plans for an $80,000 church addition.

The addition will include 10 classrooms in the basement portion and a main auditorium on the ground level.

Also included in the project will be a council room and pastor's study.

The church council and building committee will meet Tuesday evening to hire an architect. Final plans will be approved at a special congregational meeting at a later date.

Bicyclist Strikes Car, Slightly Hurt

Neenah — Kevin Koester, 13, 517 W. North Water street, was slightly injured at 10:10 a. m. Friday when he ran his bicycle into the side of a car at River street and Edna avenue.

Driver of the car, George Pontow, 54, 99 Lawson street, Menasha, said he was driving through the intersection when the boy ran into the side of the car. The boy complained of injuries to his left foot.

Report of Fire on Boat Proves False

Neenah — A report of a fire aboard a boat off Kimberly Point brought out the Neenah police boat shortly before 9 a. m. today.

However, there was no fire as the boat turned out to be a tug operating under steam power and issuing huge puffs of smoke. Police said that from the shore it may have appeared that the boat was on fire because of the thickness of the smoke.

Area Drivers Forfeit After County Arrests

Oshkosh — Four Neenah residents and a Butte des Morts man paid traffic forfeitures to the Winnebago county sheriff's department this week.

Forfeiting were: Robert L. Buchholz, 219 First street, Neenah, illegal parking, $15.

Neenah — The summer ed, one teaspoon vanilla, four used honey as an embalming cups flour, one-half teaspoon fluid," she related.

Honey Dressing
Another competitor for the honey queen title, Karen Swenson of Buttons and Bows club, made "Honey French dressing." The recipe requires one-fourth cup very finely grated onion, one cup salad oil, one-half cup honey, one-half teaspoon salt, one-third cup chili sauce, one-half cup vinegar, and one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Mix all ingredients together. The recipe makes about three cups of dressing.

In the junior division, Esthermarie Bartelt of Zion 3-C club demonstrated "Vitaminize with Summer Drinks." She made a lemon milk drink by mixing together three-fourths cup sugar, one cup milk and the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Fill a glass one-fourth full with the mixture and fill with white soda. The mixture can be kept in the refrigerator for several days.

Summer Eggnog
She made summer eggnog with one beaten egg, two tablespoons sugar, one cup milk and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Beat the egg and sugar, add milk and vanilla. Add crushed ice in a glass and sprinkle with nutmeg. A tablespoon of fruit juice can be added for varied flavorings.

In a salute to the newest state, she demonstrated Hawaiian julep. Make the drink by mixing one-half cup pineapple juice, the juice of two lemons and a small bottle of white soda. Fill the glass with ice, add the liquid and garnish with cherry and pineapple sticks and halved oranges.

Others participating in the senior division foods contest were Janet Pribbenow, Mathison club, with "Gold Cake"; Jean Eckstein, Mathison club, with "Chocolate Chip Cookies"; Barbara Kratz and Janice Kromm, Poygan Go-Getters, with "Lemon, Carrot, Apple Salad"; Lou Ann Jensen and Pam Ferris, Local Lassies, with "Time Out for Lunch"; Mary Tyrivier, Beaver Valley, with "My Ever Lovin' Honey Bar"; Doris Collins, Rippling Brook, with "Strawberry Jam"; Kathleen Dellemann, Enterprise, with "Garden Fresh Strawberries at Christmas Time"; and Carol Laa, Fair and Square, with "How to Keep Honey."

Miss Pottner, Vernon Johann Tell Troth

Menasha — Mr. and Mrs. Greg Pottner, 305 Milwaukee street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pottner, to Vernon Johann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johann, route 4, Appleton.

Both young people are graduates of St. Mary High school. She is employed by Wisconsin Paper group. Her fiancé is engaged in farming.

CDA Picnic

Menasha — The annual summer picnic of Court Al-Klumsmeier, county home ag-louez, Catholic Daughters of America, will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Hotel Menasha.

Co-chairmen of reservation are Mrs. Miles Baer and Mrs. Erwin Bader. Other members of the committee are the Mmes. Earl DeLong, Charles Schaller, Jr., and Peter Jung.

One cup to the prepared fruit in a large mixing bowl and mix well. Let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Dissolve the pectin in the water, bring to a boil and boil for one minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit-sugar mixture and stir for two minutes.

Ladle jam into jelly glasses or freezer containers, leaving one-half inch headspace. Cover the containers and let stand 24 to 48 hours or until the jam has set. Then cover with one-eighth inch of hot paraffin. The recipe makes about nine 6-ounce glasses.

This jam can be kept in a refrigerator for a few months or up to a year in the freezer. It must not be left at room temperature since it would spoil.

Uncooked Jam Must be Kept Refrigerated
Oshkosh — The same recipe for uncooked strawberry jam may be used for blackberries, blueberries, raspberries, and peaches, says Miss Lois Klumsmeier, county home ag-louez.

The recipe calls for three cups crushed berries, about one and one-half quarts berries; five cups sugar, one package powdered pectin and one cup water.

Giants Absorb 13th Loss In Last 19 Games, Drop Into Fourth-Place Tie

Dodgers Beat Cubs, Advance to Third;
Phillies Hold Pirates to a Split

By The Associated Press
It appears the San Francisco Giants, who can't play cards for high stakes and can't stay up late, now can't win ball games either.

They've won only six of 19 since mid-June, when Tom Sheehan replaced Bill Rigney as manager. And they've lost four in a row since Sheehan, who chewed 'em out about the card games and late hours, was named skipper by owner Horace Stoneham.

81 Games Behind
The Giants were second, four games out of first, when Sheehan took over. But they're tied with St. Louis for fourth place, 81 games behind, after Friday night's 7-1 thumping by the Cardinals.

First-place Pittsburgh split a two-night doubleheader at Philadelphia, winning, 8-3, the 1960 first-place Fox Cities after a 6-5, 10-inning loss. That Foxes have attracted fewer fans since the Pirates' lead to paying patrons than last year's seventh-place edition of the Foxes at a comparable time.

For the first 31 dates (injury to the game of July 5), the Dodgers' fifth straight and the Three-I league leaders drew 27,134—an average of 875—to Goodland field. Last five runs in their last five games, managed only four (30 dates), the Foxes had averaged 919 fans (a total of 34), a 19-year-old left-hand-er, 27.556) despite finishing seventh in the first round of the first inning, with Orlando Cepeda getting the RBI, while dropping to fourth place for the first time since May 15 of last year.

String Broken
The Cardinals broke up Jack Sanford's shutout string at 21 innings with three runs in the third on singles by Sadecki and Joe Cunningham and Stan Musial's 2-run homer. It was Sanford's sixth loss in 14 decisions.

The Phillies beat Pittsburgh for the third straight time in the opener, ending the Pirates' winning string at four as Ruben Amaro doubled and slid home under Roberto Clemente's peg on a single by winning reliever Dick Farrell. The decision at the plate, giving the Phils their seventh consecutive extra-inning victory, touched off a storm of Buc protests. Fred Green (4-3) was the loser in relief, while Farrell, now 7-2, blanked the Pirates on one hit for 3-1 in 13 innings.

Bill Virdon, who homered along with Don Hoak in the opener, rapped two doubles and a triple in the second game. A walk, and 1-out single.

Ushers Return to Work After Settlement
Milwaukee.—P. The Milwaukee Braves front office employees went back to their regular jobs today, and ushers resumed their work of handling fans.

The office help had been seated customers for five days while the ushers were on strike. Friday night the ushers ratified a new 2-year contract offered by the management.

The settlement provides for a 50-cent increase in the pay rate for single games and doubleheaders, retroactive to the start of the season. Under the contract the ushers will get $6.50 for single games and $8.50 for doubleheaders.

Gain Half-Game on Pittsburgh as Piche Saves Pizarro's Victory; Aaron Socks 24th Home Run

Milwaukee.—P. A ninth-inning Cincinnati uprising was set down effectively Friday night by Milwaukee's new rookie hurler Ron Piche and the Braves managed to hold on to beat the Reds, 6-3, for their second straight victory.

Again, as has often been the case recently, it looked like the Braves were about to blow an early lead and lose in the final inning.

Juan Pizarro, the 23-year-old southpaw, had been breezing along in great style for eight innings, allowing only two hits and enjoying a 6-1 lead. Then the roof caved in on him. The first three men to bat in the final inning greeted him with extra-base hits and he let go a wild pitch.

Fans Robinson
Piche came in with little time to warm up. There were no outs, two men had scored and a Red was on second with base. Piche struck out Frank Robinson and got pinch hit-ers Jerry Lynch and Harry most of the first month, then Anderson to fly out to end the diving into seventh place in game and save the victory for June, the lowans are now only Pizarro.

Vada Pinson had doubled to tie, which had an open date open the ninth and took third Friday.

11 Out of 13
Bobby Sanchez supplied the scored. Wally Post followed power while Dick Doeppker with a double to left, scoring pitched his seventh victory as Bell. Then Piche took over. Burlington won its eleventh game in the last 13 starts.

The victory enabled the Braves to gain one-half game, Meanwhile, second place on the National league lead-Pittsburgh Pirates who game by beating Des Moines, split a doubleheader with the 6-5, in a game highlighted by Philadelphia Phillies. Yankees Lose, 8-0, But Keep 3-Game Edge Over Indians

Boston's Monbouquette Shuts Out Leaders; White Sox Tip Tribe

By the Associated Press

It wasn't so long ago that the New York Yankees were wondering when "Whitey" Ford would get back to form and round out their pitching staff. Now the stubby southpaw is the only starter who has won in the past five games.

Jim Coates, Ralph Terry and Bob Turley all missed decisions in that span, and Friday night Art Ditmar was tagged with the loss as the Yankees were beaten, 8-0, at Boston by the 7-hit pitching of Bill Monbouquette.

Despite the loss, New York retained a 3-game lead over Cleveland in the American League. The Indians dropped their third in a row to the Chicago White Sox, 4-1. Washington rapped third-place Baltimore, 9-5, and gained a fifth-place tie with the Detroit Tigers, who lost, 5-4, at Kansas City in 13 innings.

Ditmar (7-5) dropped his second in a row when Boston scored twice in the fourth on 2-out singles by Don Buddin and Haywood Sullivan. The last-place Red Sox then scored six in the seventh off reliever Eli Grba on four walks and just two hits—a 3-run homer by Willie Tasby, and a 3-run pop fly double by Frank Malzone.

Fifth Straight
Bill Monbouquette (8-7) walked three and struck out eight, saving his second shutout by fanning pinchhitter Tony McDougald and getting Tony Kubek on a fly with the bases loaded in the seventh. Washington scored four un-

Pete Ward's .386 Tops Three-I by 33 Points

Gillick Second, Lehigh Third in ERA Ranking
The Fox Cities Foxes' Pete Ward—Three-I league player of the month for June—holds a 33-point lead in the batting race, according to latest official statistics. Ward had a 17-game hitting streak to increase his average by .22 percentage points to .386, through Tuesday's games. (The streak was halted Wednesday.)

Des Moines' Gerry Reimer dropped to second place with .353, followed by teammate George Williams, at .346. Ward took the lead in hits, with 97, runs scored, 67, and RBIs, 62. Reimer maintained his lead in total bases, with 151, and tied with Williams for the most triples, at seven. Gene Johnson of Cedar Rapids paced the circuit in homers, with 13, one more than Topeka's Billy Joe Dasher. Charles Bennett, Sioux City, is high in doubles, 20, while Doug Kassey, Topeka, and Al Weiss, Lincoln, are knotted for stolen base honors at 19 apiece.

The Foxes remained the leader in team batting, with .276, while Sioux City took over team fielding laurels, .960. Hank Fischer of Cedar Rapids took the lead among pitchers in earned run average with a 1.84 in 88 innings. The Foxes' Pat Gillick is second and Jim Lehigh third.

Stan Joties of Topeka won the most games, nine, while losing seven, and hurled the most innings, 118. Rick Warren of Green Bay pitched the most complete games, 11. Phil Ortega of Green Bay struck out the most batters, 110.

The top 10 batters and pitchers, and all other Foxes, follow.

Jersey City to Get Havana Franchise

Manager, Several Cuban Players May Quit After Switch

Richmond, Va.—(AP)—Jersey City ends its present road trip at Miami next Thursday night. City will fall heir to Havana's International league baseball franchise next week but may get only a part of the team that goes with it.

Eleven Cubans are on the Sugar Kings' 23-man roster, and about half now plan to quit the club rather than submit to a franchise shift denounced as American "aggression" by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Shoughnessy said an emergency exists in Havana and feel that our players can no longer be given any guarantee of safety.

But Maduro said the decision to shift the franchise "is completely outrageous" — a decision "Cubans will interpret as a demonstration to harm the nation."

"For me it means bankruptcy and loss of an entire holding of $400,000," Maduro said. "I don't know what I'm going to do."

The Havana owner, one of the most popular directors in the 8 team, Class AAA league, said he owes a Cuban bank bank $110,000, owes an additional $80,000 to others, and would have to return $100,000 for radio rights to Cuban games and a part of $3,000 for advance ticket sales.

Castro lashed out at Shoughnessy's action in an address Friday night. The Cuban prime minister said shift of the franchise is "another aggression" which violates "all codes of sportsmanship."

"American players when they came here (to Havana) got nothing but respect and admiration," Castro said. "The people treated them cordially and there was no record of attacks on players of any kind..."

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who have a working agreement with the Sugar Kings, and Havana general manager Paul Miller were to come to Richmond today to confer with the Sugar King players.

Jockey Arrested for Public Intoxication

Hicksville, N.Y.—(AP)—Hedley Woodhouse, one of the nation's best known jockeys, was arrested on a public intoxication charge Thursday night after he allegedly created a disturbance and tried to avert arrest.

His wife posted $500 bail at 4:30 a.m. Friday and got him out of jail.

Wisconsin Democrat Pushes Aged Hospital Care Plank

Sheboygan Lawyer Says South To Oppose Strong Civil Rights

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Los Angeles — The strongest civil rights plank in the Democratic party will be proposed by the Democratic national convention platform committee, a Wisconsin member of the platform group reported here Friday night.

David Rabinovitz of Sheboygan, national party committee-man-elect for the Wisconsin Democrats, has been working four days with the platform committee. The convention starts Monday.

Rabinovitz predicted that the platform committee would recommend legislation to deny federal school aids to districts segregating pupils and endorsed the Negro sit-down campaign that has dramatized the civil rights issue in the south during the last year.

But the Wisconsin politician admitted there is some doubt that such an aggressive civil rights plank can get the endorsement from delegates because of the powerful bloc of southerners.

A leading labor lawyer in Wisconsin, Rabinovitz is also working here for an explicit endorsement of medical and hospital care for the aged through the federal social security system.

He said he is confident that the convention will finally endorse for-and-type medical care legislation, which has not yet had a decisive vote in the Democratic-controlled congress.

Rabinovitz' enthusiasm for such legislation reflects not only his professional association with labor unions campaigning eagerly for such a law, but the conviction of most Wisconsin Democratic politicians that medical care for the aged is one of the hottest available issues for exploitation in the Wisconsin election campaign.

15 Roads Closed For Construction

Madison — Fifteen major Wisconsin highways continue to have closed sections because of construction projects, the state highway commission said Friday. Detours are provided.

Work continues on other roads, but none have closed areas.

Closed sections are on Highway 26, Rock Counties; 28, Sheboygan; 33, Dodge; 39, Iowa; 49, Dodge; 57, Door; 60, Ozaukee; 61, Crawford; 63, Pierce; 77, Iron; 112 and 118, Ashland; 141, Sheboygan; 167, Washington; and 153, Marathon.

Candidates for Top State Offices File Nomination Papers

Madison — Candidates of both political parties for some of Wisconsin's top offices filed their nomination papers with the office of Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman Friday.

Among them were Gov. Gaylord Nelson and Republican candidates Phillip G. Kuehn, Whitefish Bay, seeking the governorship; Warren Knowles, New Richmond, former state senator and lieutenant governor, running for lieutenant governor; George Thompson, La Crosse, attorney general aspirant; Ivan Kindisch, Marshall, seeking the treasurer's post; and Zimmerman.

Delay Decision On Expressway

But Action Due Soon On 41 North From DePere to Suamico

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state highway commission probably will make a decision on the Highway 41 expressway route from DePere north to Suamico during the next month.

Chairman Harvey Grasse said the commission said today the decision has been delayed while Leroy Empey of the Green Bay district office of the highway department prepares cost estimates on suggested alternate routes offered by the town of Ashwaubenon.

The town offered one alternate to the state-suggested route several months ago, and later offered a modification of its own plan in another communication to the commission.

Cost Data Grasse said the commission cannot act until precise cost data is supplied. When the rate decision is made, the next step will be the preparation of a plat and the authorization of land acquisition.

He said he doubts that there will be any land buying or condemnation during the remainder of this year.

Actual construction of the new bypass route, therefore, may not be completed for several more years.

Man Hurt When Struck by Auto

Marlyn Timm, 47, of 723 W. Wisconsin avenue received apparent minor injuries about 9:30 p.m. Friday when he was struck by a car in front of his home.

The driver of the car, E. F. Wilenkamp, 42, Greenville, was west bound on Wisconsin avenue and Timm was crossing from north to south. Timm said he looked both ways, saw nothing and started walking. He said he heard brakes squeal just before the impact. Wilenkamp said his car was an almost stopped at the time of the impact.

Timm was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital in a Lindy ambulance.

Hospitalize Youth After Drinking Spree

Chilton — James Setin, 19, route 4, Chilton, was hospitalized Friday after he became unconscious at a teenage drinking party at a route 3, Chilton, home.

Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky said the party involved eight boys, ranging in age from 15 to 22. He said the party started Thursday night and ended Friday morning when Stein was hospitalized.

The party was at the home of a 15-year-old, whose parents were absent.

Ted Coleman, 19, route 4, Chilton, pleaded guilty this morning to supplying beer to minors and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and an additional 10 days for loitering in a tavern.

Stein, Kosmosky said, will be charged with the same offenses when he is released from the hospital sometime today. The sheriff said he also will ask for a warrant for the arrest of the tavern keeper who sold the beer.

One Day Till Take-Off

82 Make Last-Minute Travel Preparations

Feverish last-minute preparations were the order of Green Bay.

After regrouping at Milwaukee, the vacationers will leave for a 3-week European visit with Charlie in New York, where they will be taking off in a plying DC-8 jet being sponsored by the Appleton Post-Crescent and Green Bay Press-Gazette.

The tourists will leave Outagamie County airport and airline representatives urged the tourists to pack "as tightly as possible." The two planes will leave travelers also were urged to take along only the very basic essentials.

Virtually every traveler to Europe finds some fascinating souvenirs or "good buys" on the continent which he wants to bring home with him. But there is a 44-pound luggage limit on air travel, and while more can be carried, the charge for the extra weight is prohibitive.

In almost every bag, room will be afforded for the omnipresent camera and film, flashbulbs and filters. As one European remarked, "I'm not sure whether the American National symbol is the eagle or the Kodak."

The Post-Crescent news staff will be at Outagamie airport to cover the departure and to wish Charlie and his guests bon voyage.

Nelson Requests Trailer Law Check

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson has asked for an investigation of Wisconsin laws covering the use of trailers on highways. He said the deaths of seven persons in one accident last week prompted the request.

The inquiry request was directed to James Karns, state motor vehicle commissioner. Nelson said the accident raised the question of whether the laws "are sufficiently stringent to meet the needs for safety."

Nelson told Karns to study all requirements for trailers and suggest any legislation he considered necessary.

Cousin of Appleton Man Killed Friday

The cousin of an Appleton man was killed Friday in St. Paul, Minn., when a cable on a 2,800-pound crane broke and the crane fell on him.

Eugene Pruno, 31, Osceola, Wis., and another workman were killed when the crane dropped into a sewer excavation in which the two men were working. The dead man is a cousin of Roland Pruno, 502 E. Wilson avenue and has two uncles and an aunt in Neenah and Menasha.

Air Traffic

North Central Airlines Carries 11,167 in June

Passenger traffic carried by up to 2,294 pounds; Oshkosh, North Central airlines reached a total of 11,167 at Appleton, Oshkosh and Green Bay airports during June, airline officials reported today.

While more people arrived on flights at Appleton and Oshkosh, than left, more boarded at Green Bay than got off. In June, 897 were passengers at the Appleton airport, 4,618 at Oshkosh and 5,852 at Green Bay.

Twice as many pounds of air mail arrived in Appleton and Green Bay as was sent out, but at Oshkosh three times more left than arrived. Air mail totaled 1,840 pounds at Appleton, 24,718 at Oshkosh and 17,185 at Green Bay.

Almost as much North Central air express went out as came in at the three airports. Appleton air express added

This represents a 5.6 percent increase over June last year when 93,543 passengers were carried, and a 3.5 percent increase over the airline's previous top month, August, 1959.

"Our goal for 1960 is 1,100,000 passengers," said Buttommer. "To date we have reached 45.2 percent of this figure, and our best business months are still ahead of us."

Largest Plastic Laminating Press Put Into Action

Wisconsin Rapids — The world's largest plastic laminating press was put into operation at the Consoweld corporation here Friday.

Capable of turning out 180,000 square feet daily, the equivalent of counter tops for 4,500 homes, the new press weighs more than 300 tons and stands 28 feet high.

Miss Wisconsin, Mary Alice Fox of Sheboygan, pushed the button which started the giant machine on its first official production run.

With a potential production of 3,000 panels of 5-by-12-foot plastic laminates each day, the press is eventually expected to increase employment at Consoweld by 50 persons.

Line of Cars in Accident at Road Repair Site

New London — Three cars were involved in a line-of-traffic accident about 8:05 a.m. today on Highway 45 just east of the "ledge" where reconstruction work is underway.

Oscar Spies, Milwaukee, and Frank Grimm, route 3, Clintonville, were waiting a go-ahead on a stretch of 1-way traffic when a car driven by A. J. Gerner, Chicago, rammed the Grimm car pushing it into the Spies car.

Mrs. Walter Heinze, Chicago, a passenger in the Gerner car, complained of a head injury and was taken to Community hospital for examination.

The highway work is holding up a lane of traffic at a time over the stretch receiving blacktopping. Heavy traffic is causing considerable backups, police said.
